

Candice Grause Bio

Candice Grause is the Vice President for Communications and Chief of Staff at Tallahassee Community College, located in the capital city of Tallahassee, Florida. In her current role, she oversees the Communications and Marketing office and serves as a key member of the College's leadership team, working closely with the president on college-wide initiatives as well as external community and government relations efforts.

Before being appointed Vice President in 2022 and Chief of Staff in 2018, she served in the Office of Communications and Marketing at TCC in consecutive and progressively responsible roles for nearly a decade. Prior to that, she worked in the private sector in insurance and risk management.

Among Grause's awards and distinctions, she received the Rising Star Award by the National Council for Marketing & Public Relations (NCMPR) recognizing leadership as a communications professional at a two-year community or technical college.

In addition to being a TCC alum, Grause earned a Bachelor of Arts in Editing, Writing and Media from Florida State University, and a Master of Public Administration from the University of Central Florida.
